MAYOR REDD & PARKING AUTHORITY CHAIRMAN ALAMO ANNOUNCE FREE METER PARKING THROUGHOUT THE CITY FROM DECEMBER 19-24

CAMDEN – Mayor Dana L. Redd and Camden Parking Authority Chairman Angel Alamo today announced that Camden residents and visitors will be able to enjoy free meter parking throughout the City from Monday, December 19th, through Saturday, December 24th. The annual free meter parking allows residents and visitors to shop or visit Camden during the last week of holiday shopping.

“Once again, the Parking Authority has graciously agreed to give residents and visitors an opportunity to do any holiday shopping or dining in the City without having to worry about feeding the meter,” Mayor Redd said. “The Authority’s decision to allow free meter parking during the week leading up to the holiday weekend can be a boost to our local businesses as shoppers rush to get their last minute shopping done before Christmas.”

“The Parking Authority is glad to spread some holiday cheers by continuing our yearly tradition of free meter parking the week before Christmas,” Chairman Alamo said. “This annual event not only looks to save residents and visitors a few dollars worth of quarters, but it also seeks to assist our local businesses during one of the busiest shopping weeks of the year.”

Camden residents and visitors can park at any metered parking space in the City without being ticketed starting December 19th through December 24th. For more information, please contact the Parking Authority of the City of Camden at 856-757-9300.
